“PASSIONATE POLITICS is an extraordinary documentary that puts body and life into the feminist idea that the personal is political. Charlotte Bunch—outspoken lesbian feminist trailblazer, charismatic builder of bridges, founding mother of a whole generation of transnational feminist activists, and author of the transformative concept that Women’s Rights are Human Rights—is the film’s riveting centerpiece. Passionate Politics is a must-view for teachers, students, activists and policy makers who seek lessons about making a better world.”
